THE LAST HOURS OF DEPARTED PONTIFF

Scenes About the Vatican While the Late Pope Leo XIII. Breathed His Last.

Rome, July 20.—The final scene in the death chamber of Pope Leo XIII. was profoundly impressive. The Pope's death having been expected since noon, his death bed was surrounded practically by all the members of the Sacred College now in Rome, and the whole Papal court, while the Pontiff's nephew remained in the Papal library until they received word from the doctors which announced that his last expiring breath was approaching. Then they moved silently within the death chamber, some standing, some kneeling, all waiting the awful moment of dissolution.

In the ante-chamber had assembled the high ecclesiastics, members of the diplomatic corps and representatives of Papal aristocracy, awaiting the announcement that the final moment had come.

Profound silence reigned in the Pope's bedroom, only broken by the doctors rising to render their expiring patient more comfortable, by the sobs of the ever-faithful valet, Pio Centa, or the murmured prayers of Mr. Piffari, the Papal confessor, himself 84 years of age, who had to be assisted to the bedside. Softly he recited the prayers for the dying, the Pontiff at one moment appearing to follow him as though conscious of what was transpiring, but he could not speak.

Then the dying Pope murmured something to himself, in which those tending over him heard the words "Father" and "Mother."

Dr. Lapponi, who almost constantly had his fingers on the Pope's pulse, felt it growing gradually weaker and weaker, and at the same time the Pontiff's extremities began to get cold, his lips became blue, his eyes sank more deeply into his head, his breathing became ever more difficult, and there were strange rattlings in his throat.

Finally the Pope was asked to bless his nephews and all the others present. He attempted to raise himself, and the extreme emaciation of his person, covered with pronounced by his efforts. The portiers hiding the doors were thrown back to the utmost to admit as much air as possible, when the light filtering through the green shades of the window revealed his sunken eyes and shrunken features absolutely ghastly.

It was a solemn moment. The head of the Pontiff, with its white skull cap now whiter than the fringe of silver hair, rising above its crimson coronet, his hand raised in the familiar gesture of benediction, the kneeling assemblage being too earnestly absorbed in deep affliction, veneration and weeping to even make a movement. The doctors again examined the dying body, father, and this time found that it was at the extreme limit of his powers of respiration. His eyes began to become dim and clouded, and Leo XIII. entered into the realization of death, which was recognized by all present kneeling.

The last conscious act of the Pontiff was to turn his eyes towards the great crucifix on the wall, after which he suffered from a paroxysm of choking, during which he passed away.

The silence of the awe-stricken assemblage was broken by the sonorous solemn voice of Cardinal Serafini Vanutelli, the grand pontiff, intoning the Requiem Aeternam (Rest Eternal).

This was the signal for an outburst of tears, and the sound of weeping, which could no longer be repressed, and the kneeling prelates and others kissing the dead hand—that hand which had dispensed so many benefits and benedictions.

Outside the death chamber expectation was intense, but the sight of the sorrowing faces of those leaving the room was sufficient without word to spread the sad news, which was not long in spreading throughout Rome. The occurrences in the death chamber, immediately following the Pope's demise, were of impressive solemnity. Courtiers had been dispatched to summon those who are delegated to perform the final religious offices toward the dead Pope, and some of the cardinals of the Franciscan monks were heard as, two by two, in course of the dead and with sandals, feet, they passed down to the room in which Leo lay dead.

From time immemorial the Francistans have been penitentiaries of St. Peter's. Following them, came the noble guard to watch over the Pontiff's remains, the brilliancy of their uniforms contrasting strikingly with the sombre attire of the quality attired monks and the solemn dignity of the chamber itself.

The only sound heard was the measured chanting of the Psalms of penitence by the group of monks kneeling beside the couch of death. Two noble guards took up positions, at the foot of the couch and stood there, rigid and silent as statues with swords drawn and reversed, pointing to the floor.

The death chamber preserved much the appearance as it did at the time of the final illness of the Pope. It is situated on the third floor of the Vatican, the apartments fronting the splendid piazza of St. Peter's and the window of the room commanding a view of the tall obelisk and playing fountains, with Rome stretching off beyond the Tiber. Across the middle of the room hang heavy draperies, partly concealing the bed on which lay the silent form of the dead Pontiff. By the side of the bed burned a number of candles, and from above looked down the picture of the Madonna with the infant Christ in her arms. Leo's desk was closed, but some of the books on religious topics which he kept near him remained on it.

The body lay exactly as it was at the moment of the Pope's last expiring breath. A white veil was thrown over the dead man's face, while awaiting the solemn entrance of the camerlengo, who was to officially pronounce the Pontiff actually dead.

They Pass a Resolution Affecting Sympathetic Strikes.

Bay City, Mich., July 20.—D. J. Keefe, of Chicago, and H. C. Barter were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the International Longshoremen's Association at the close of the twelfth annual convention of the association here. The election was harmonious, a threatened campaign against J. E. Porter, colored, of New Orleans, seventh vice-president, failing flat, and he being one of three vice-presidents nominated by acclamation. Among the vice-presidents are J. A. MacLaughlin, of Sarnia, Ont., and J. Montmarquette, of Montreal.

Milwaukee was chosen as the next place of meeting. President Keefe, Secretary Barter and T. N. O'Connor, of Buffalo, were chosen delegates to the American Federation of Labor.

The declaration of First Vice-President Joyce in favor of discrimination against all vessel owners who are not members of the Lake Carriers' Association, is generally regarded as the beginning of a fight against the "so-called" steel trust, and Ellsicht and several lines of vessels owned by railroads. The matter was referred to the executive council.

The conservative element rallied to President Keefe's anti-sympathetic strike ideas, and while the strikes were not abolished, Delegate Casey, of Buffalo, secured the passage of a resolution which provides for a majority assent of all delegates to a wage conference before sympathetic strikes can be declared.

The convention decided to have a conference of freight handlers, who have hitherto had no conferences with their employers, in Detroit, one week prior to the Lake Carriers' Association meeting.

DEFENCE IN THE KIRCHHEIMER CASE

PRISONER'S ACCOUNT OF TRANSACTIONS

Contents That He Made No Secret of Purchases—His Dealings With Lorimer.

When the Kirchheimer case was resumed yesterday afternoon, Mr. Powell called his first witness for the defence, Mr. Woodward, collector for the Paterson Shoe Co., gave evidence as to the date when Lorimer made a certain payment for goods.

Mr. Black was the next witness. He told of a number of purchases made from Turner, Beeton & Co. for him. He saw Lorimer a couple of times in Kirchheimer's, but did not know what business he was on.

Gustav Kirchheimer, the accused, who was then called, said that his business with Turner, Beeton & Co. extended over three years. In 1901 he bought considerable goods through Messrs. Thompson and Allie, the principal articles being underwear. On the goods bought at a Vancouver sale he paid 25 cents on the dollar. In this stock there were about two bales of denim blankets, which were also secured on that occasion. Shown a list of the transactions which Turner, Beeton & Co. were alleged to have had with witness, prisoner referred to a transaction in April, 1902, in which he said he bought tobacco from Mr. Thompson. The second was on April 5th and he dealt with Tom Allie. Another of May 6th, consisting of shawls, he was sure, was not with Mr. Thompson. Between May and October he had from three to six transactions with Mr. Lorimer. The last one he was sure was with Mr. Allie. Most of his goods he got from Mr. Allie in 1901. He probably had one thousand dollars' worth in all. He also had some transactions with Mr. Harvey. He remembered once having gotten a bill of goods because he wanted to show it to a customer. Invoices were obtained for some of the goods. In 1902 he got some goods from Mr. Thompson. He usually wrote out cheques after receiving goods. Goods obtained from Mr. Wollaston were paid for in cash. In September, 1902, he secured 24 blankets from Lorimer. The latter offered him the blankets. He went down to Turner, Beeton & Co. to see Frank Smith, when Lorimer asked if he did not want to buy blankets, and he replied that he would if they were cheap enough. He never paid drayage except in one case, where he paid an expressman $1, which he deducted from the bill of the goods. All goods received in 1901 went to his house.

Asked for an explanation of the transaction with Lorimer he said that he was called by Lorimer and paid him $1.25 apiece for the blankets. A week afterwards he bought 40 shawls from Lorimer. He sold them to Aaronson, who wanted them for his Indian trade. On the 12th of October he dealt with Tom Allie. A week later he went down to Turner, Beeton & Co. when Lorimer approached him and asked why he did not buy the blankets from him. Lorimer said witness could have made something, and Lorimer could have made his commission. Lorimer then spoke of having to clear out a department, and offered him some blankets. He bought 15 bales. Lorimer then offered denim at 15 cents. After making inquiries of Lenx & Leiser witness agreed to take two bales of the denim. Next morning two bales of the denim arrived at before 9 o'clock the two bales arrived at his store together with the load came to $250. On the same morning as the goods arrived Lorimer came up to his store with a bill. Witness started to write out a cheque for him, when Lorimer said that he could not accept it, as he had orders to get the cash. Witness then reminded Lorimer that a cheque for $150 presented to the store a week previously had been acknowledged. Kirchheimer then stated that he would go down to the store and see Mr. Thompson about the matter. In reply Lorimer said that Mr. Thompson could not do anything, as he had to comply with a regulation of the bank. He then told Lorimer to return in the afternoon and he would pay for the goods. In the meanwhile he went to the bank and drew $180, expecting to make up the difference, as a customer was expected who was to pay $80. He was therefore sorry when Lorimer came in the afternoon to disappoint him, but Lorimer gave him credit for $180 in a small book which the latter had. He saw him writing down the transaction. Lorimer came to his store a number of times afterwards. On another occasion when Lorimer refused his cheque he brought him down to the bank and there presented it and had it acknowledged before him. It was on that occasion that they went into the Brown Jug. He spoke to Lorimer about the cheque after leaving the bank, when the latter said: "Oh, you needn't get huffy, come and have a drink." This was the only time when they had business transactions in the Brown Jug. He paid Lorimer several times in the bank. He supposed he owed Turner, Beeton & Co. $142.45, and he intended to give it to them. As for loaning he never gave Lorimer any money in that way. With regard to the collector visiting Turner, Beeton & Co.'s store and pressing for his money from Lorimer in Kirchheimer's, presence towards the last of September, the prisoner described the story as wholly a make-up. Lorimer told him on one occasion when he presented a cheque that the bank was ahead in the company's business. At another time he received notice to pay no other concern except the Bank of British Columbia for goods received from Turner, Beeton & Co. Witness kept several small account books in which he kept a record of his outstanding transactions.

One of these books was submitted, in which two entries appeared, one for $120 paid to Turner, Beeton & Co., and the other dated November 7, when $176.75 was paid. He remembered selling Mr. Piercy denim. Mr. Cook was then present, and he remembered telling how he came to get the goods. Witness said that he got goods from Turner, Beeton & Co. He told this to Mr. Lenx and also to Wing Chung. He said to Wing Chung when the Chinamen wanted goods from Turner, Beeton & Co. to let him know, for he could make his commission and sell them cheaper than the Chinamen could buy them. He also told Tim Kee the same things. He never made a secret of where he got his goods. Cross-examined by Mr. McLean witness could not remember exactly how much denim he got from Vancouver. He got the goods on the 2nd of September, 1902. All the denim went to Rutland, so far as he could remember, at 15 cents a yard. In all he got 27 bales of denim from Turner, Beeton & Co. The first two bales he got on 24th of October or thereabouts, but did not remember the dates of the other transactions. Lorimer came up to his store two or three times a week after the first transaction. The prices of hosiery in commerce were procured for his private use. He had been down to Turner, Beeton & Co.'s, but had not consulted Mr. Thompson or any other of the head members of the firm. Lenx & Leiser had said it would be a bad thing for it to be known that the denim could be sold for a quarter of a cent less than cost. He sold between seven and eight bales of shawls to Lenx & Leiser, and was sure that that firm knew from where they came. Witness thought that there had been a very odd change in the management of business until Lorimer explained.

Asked then as to the extent of the transactions witness said they amounted to over $3,000.

Asked if he did not consider it worth while, in consideration of the importance of these transactions, to get receipts, witness said: "When somebody is going to die one never made much noise."

The denim he got October 27th he paid 14 and 15 cents for it. He told Mr. Piercy where he got the denim. He offered Lorimer cheques on a couple of occasions, and wondering again if his cheque would be accepted presented it for a third time, thinking that the bank difficulty might have been cleared up.

Mr. McLean pressed witness respecting the motives for his actions in this respect, but obtained no very definite answer.

Witness had been in business four years. He thought that he had "invented" the business he was in. He told Mr. Piercy that the entry of his transactions in a book sufficed for a receipt. Witness was of the impression that Turner, Beeton & Co. wanted to dispose of their goods for cash, and it looked bad for the company not to take his cheques.

The cross-examination was still in progress when an adjournment was taken until 10:30 o'clock this morning.

regulation of the bank. He then told Lorimer to return in the afternoon and he would pay for the goods. In the meanwhile he went to the bank and drew $180, expecting to make up the difference, as a customer was expected who was to pay $80. He was therefore sorry when Lorimer came in the afternoon to disappoint him, but Lorimer gave him credit for $180 in a small book which the latter had. He saw him writing down the transaction. Lorimer came to his store a number of times afterwards. On another occasion when Lorimer refused his cheque he brought him down to the bank and there presented it and had it acknowledged before him. It was on that occasion that they went into the Brown Jug. He spoke to Lorimer about the cheque after leaving the bank, when the latter said: "Oh, you needn't get huffy, come and have a drink." This was the only time when they had business transactions in the Brown Jug. He paid Lorimer several times in the bank. He supposed he owed Turner, Beeton & Co. $142.45, and he intended to give it to them. As for loaning he never gave Lorimer any money in that way. With regard to the collector visiting Turner, Beeton & Co.'s store and pressing for his money from Lorimer in Kirchheimer's, presence towards the last of September, the prisoner described the story as wholly a make-up. Lorimer told him on one occasion when he presented a cheque that the bank was ahead in the company's business. At another time he received notice to pay no other concern except the Bank of British Columbia for goods received from Turner, Beeton & Co. Witness kept several small account books in which he kept a record of his outstanding transactions.

One of these books was submitted, in which two entries appeared, one for $120 paid to Turner, Beeton & Co., and the other dated November 7, when $176.75 was paid. He remembered selling Mr. Piercy denim. Mr. Cook was then present, and he remembered telling how he came to get the goods. Witness said that he got goods from Turner, Beeton

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Mrs. L. Hollister, Supreme Commander of Ladies of Maccabees, Tendered a Reception.

Yesterday afternoon at the Driad hotel Mrs. Lillian Hollister, supreme commander of the Ladies of Maccabees, was tendered a cordial reception by friends and admirers of her work in this city. Accompanying Mrs. Hollister are Merion B. Baxter, deputy supreme commander for British Columbia; Dr. Ella J. Field, district medical examiner, and Mrs. Stewart, state commander for the State of Washington.

The parlors of the Driad were suitably decorated, the flags of Great Britain and the States figuring prominently. Flowers were numerous and the pleasing effect was made more pronounced by an orchestra rendering an excellent musical programme while the distinguished visitor was busy receiving and exchanging courtesies with her numerous guests. His Worship Mayor McCandless and United States Consul Hon. A. E. Smith were among those who attended.

A large audience gathered at the Institute hall in the evening, where a public initiation took place. Mayor McCandless occupied the chair and opened the proceedings with an address of welcome. This was followed by a few appropriate words by United States Consul Smith, after which Bishop Cridge offered up prayer. A programme consisting of vocal and instrumental solos and recitations was rendered before the public initiation took place.

Mrs. Hollister delivered a stirring address. Speeches were given by Dr. Field, of Tacoma, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Marion B. Baxter, provincial commander.

After the latter had concluded her address, Mrs. Spofford, deputy commander for the island, presented a solid silver cake knife to Supreme Commander Mrs. Hollister, in honor of her visit. The recipient thanked the local order in a few appropriate words.

Mrs. MacGregor delivered an address on behalf of the Woman's Council, after which a meeting of Baxter Hive Ladies of Maccabees will be held. As the business to be considered is of especial importance a large attendance is anticipated.

Two carloads of the famous "Macon Fruit Jars," with latest improvements, have been received by Weller Bros. Buy now.

ANOTHER TIE VOTE IN THE COUNCIL

IN REGARD TO LEASE OF MARKET BUILDING

Conference Will Be Held With Company. This Week—Library Tenders to Be Invited.

Again a deadlock has occurred in the city council regarding the Victoria Terminal Railway & Ferry Co.'s application for a lease of the market building, and it was decided to have a conference with the company on the subject. It was also ordered that tenders be invited for the Carnegie library building, to be received up to 3 p. m. on August 3rd. Mayor McCandless being absent attending the reception to Mrs. Hollister during the early part of the meeting, Ald. Cameron was appointed to the chair. The usual order of business prevailed.

A. E. Wood, vice-president of the Victoria Terminal Railway & Ferry Co., communicated the company's refusal to accept the lease of the market under the conditions offered by the council, and asked that a lease be made without delay. The agreement was executed without delay.

Ald. Yates moved that the city solicitor be instructed to settle the lease exactly in accordance with the terms of the by-law. This was the same motion that Ald. Yates moved last week. It was seconded by Ald. Stewart.

Ald. Cameron said there was a question in his mind whether this motion, having been lost at a previous meeting, could be submitted again. He suggested that the matter lay on the table until the Mayor arrived, as this was an important subject.

Ald. Barnard moved to this effect, seconded by Ald. Vincent.

Ald. Kinsman also contended that the matter should be laid over until the entire council was present.

Ald. Yates withdrew his motion, and the communication from Mr. Wood was stated over.

Secretary Swinerton, of the Agricultural Association, asked that North Pembroke street be connected with Pandora street to facilitate traffic to the exhibition building. Referred to the city engineer for report.

D. R. Kerr suggested that the rock at the head of Erie street be used in the Dallas road work. The council has promised to open this street several years ago. Referred to the streets committee.

W. A. Hughes, of 61 Second street, complained against the operation of a bone grinder by a neighbor. It was, he said, very unhealthy. Referred to the city solicitor and sanitary officer.

Mayor McCandless, arriving at this stage, Ald. Cameron vacated the chair.

Alex. Jack declined the appointment of fence viewer. It was received and the resignation accepted with regret.

Ald. Yates moved that T. C. Sorby be appointed. Ald. Vincent seconded the motion.

Ald. Grahame pointed out that Mr. Sorby wasn't a property owner.

Mr. Mallandaine's name was suggested by Ald. Dinsdale. A ballot was taken and after a hot contest Mr. Sorby was elected.

John A. Walton, of Simcoe street, requested that the plumbing inspector be provided with something to establish his authority when he entered houses in the pursuit of his calling. He also applied for certain box drains in front of his house before alterations required by the inspector were carried out.

The communication was productive of some discussion, and it was decided to give the writer the required evidence of the inspector's authority.

Steve Jones asked permission to have the name of his hotel included in the pavement now being constructed. Request was granted.

A. St. George Flint, on behalf of the Victoria Building Society, petitioned for the removal of trees in front of houses on Humboldt street. They were detrimental to the property, and doctors said injurious to health.

Ald. Stewart wanted the communication referred to the city engineer with power to act.

Ald. Barnard was more aesthetically disposed. These were beautiful trees and greatly enhanced the appearance of the locality. The city engineer should report. Ultimately it was determined to let the city engineer investigate and report.

The city engineer and city assessor submitted estimates of the cost of paving Yates street from Government to Wharf, Bastion street and Langley street, from Yates to Bastion, under the local improvement plan—the property owners affected to pay two-thirds of the cost and the city one-third. Enclosed were schedules of assessments and costs for the following: Yates street, $30.25; Bastion, $75.31; Langley street, $36.40.

The reports were received and adopted and the work ordered to be duly advertised as per requirement.

The water commissioner and purchasing agent recommended that the tender of John Piercy for sand be accepted.

Adopted. The water commissioner also called attention to the unsatisfactory method of purchasing water pipes, which, being ordered after the estimates for the summer, never arrived until late in the season. He recommended that tenders for 5,000 feet of 6-inch pipe and 10,000 feet of 4-inch cast iron water pipe be called for at once, to be delivered about April or May next.

It was generally agreed that the water commissioner's recommendation that tenders for pipes be invited six months ahead was a good one, but a conference will be held with the official before the tenders are called for.

The building inspector reported as follows:

Gentlemen:—In reply to yours of the 14th instant, as to whether the working drawings and specifications re Carnegie library, agree in every respect with the original drawings, I would respectfully report as follows:

I have read through the specifications and conditions, and examined the plans, and find that the plans of the several floors very nearly comply with the original, whilst there are some slight changes caused by adopting the alternative Yates street front.

First. The alternative Yates street elevation was the one chosen, thereby requiring an alteration in the foundation and floor plans, which are to be made wider so as to make room to receive the columns above. This alteration makes the building longer by two feet than the original.

Second. The architects have made the ground floor ceiling 15 inches higher, and the first floor 12 inches higher, so that the building will be so much higher than shown on the original.

Third. They also show on one side a plan of an intermediate floor over the vault which shows how the work is to be carried out. This was not on the original, and could not be very well shown.

Fourth. There are two other small changes which had to be made to show how the work was carried out: A small brick wall built to carry the front entrance steps, and also showing arches to support the concrete floor in which the tiles are to be bedded. These things were not shown in the originals, but were mentioned in the typewritten letter sent in with the original plan.

Fifth. The architects furnish three more plans than the original, viz.: West elevation, roof plan, and a site plan showing depths of excavation with all particulars as to drains, gas, and electric lights, and where to be fixed, which are not on the original.

Sixth. The only change which can be called one of any importance is the raising of the building higher, which will improve the appearance of it. Most of the rest is caused by the necessity of putting the plans in such shape as to make them intelligible to those who tender on them.

In every case where there has been any change from the original plans, it will add to the cost, and I cannot see anywhere throughout the plans and specifications where anything has been done to reduce from the original in the matter of cost. I might state that the specifications call for detail drawings to be furnished for all work requiring the same.

In my opinion the plans and specifications are well prepared and give full particulars, and that contractors will have no difficulty in preparing their estimates from them.

The plans and specifications fill all the requirements of the building by-law.

The following resolution was moved by Ald. Stewart, seconded by Ald. Goodacre:

That the report dated the 20th inst., upon the working plans and specifications of the proposed public library, which report is now submitted by Mr. Northcott, building inspector, be adopted; that the architects, Messrs. Hooper & Watkins, be, and the

HELP'S BOTTLE

Food Strengthens the Mother and Makes Milk for the Baby.

There are many cases on record where the use of the scientific food Grape-Nuts has produced milk for a mother in a few days, so she could nurse her baby in the natural way.

A case of this kind is told by a lady of Decatur, Ga.:—"When my baby was two months old I had a very disordered stomach and everything I ate disagreed with me.

"This worried me so and I was so weak and nervous I was almost a wreck and had to stay in bed most of the time, and the result was that I had to put my baby on the bottle. After trying this for a week the poor little thing did not thrive, and I thought she would surely die.

"Then along came a friend who begged me to try Grape-Nuts food, although neither she nor I thought it would cause me to have nourishment for baby. But I concluded to eat Grape-Nuts and began that same day with good results.

"It was the first food I had eaten for more than three weeks that had agreed with me, and I continued eating it and gained strength rapidly, and after only two days' use of this food I was able to nurse my baby again, and in less than a week I had taken her entirely from the bottle.

"You can imagine what a pleasure this is to a mother, and I am more thankful to Grape-Nuts food on baby's account than on my own, although incidentally I must tell you that I have gained 9 pounds in 8 weeks." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

same are, hereby authorized to call for tenders for the erection of the building, to be receivable at the office of the city clerk up to Monday, the 3rd day of August prox., at 3 p. m., and that provision be made for receiving the successful tender to provide two bondsmen in the sum of $2,500 each, the work to be completed within 12 months from the date of signing the contract; and further, that the tenders be required to submit alternative tenders for the supply of Haddington Island and Kokilah stone respectively, in conjunction with their tender for the stone required by the specification.

Ald. Dinsdale said the specifications were not very clear as to the points, while generally there were not enough details for the guidance of the contractor. Another feature was that the walls of the stack room were not to be "strapped" before plastering, which would give a damp building. He moved that these three items be included in the specifications.

Ald. Kinsman held similar views. It was an important matter and should be looked into. A technical argument followed in which Ald. Dinsdale, Stewart and Kinsman were the principal speakers. The other members sat agape at the array of terminology which was turned loose on them. The motion was that the provisions suggested by Ald. Dinsdale were added to the specification.

The Teamsters' Union communicated a new scale of wages for city work. The communication was received and filed and a copy referred to the city engineer.

Ald. Stewart urged that the city secure more teams and do its own work. This would be found cheaper.

Mr. Wood's communication regarding the market lease was then taken up, and Ald. Yates's motion previously introduced was submitted. The father of the motion said the question was: Had the company complied with the terms of the agreement so as to entitle them to a lease? If they had they should have it. If they had not they should not get it.

The motion was put and a deadlock resulted, the vote being as follows:

Ayes—Ald. Yates, Stewart, Dinsdale, Goodacre and Grahame.

Noes—Ald. Kinsman, Cameron, Barnard, Vincent and the Mayor.

The Worship suggested that a conference with the company be held.

Ald. Yates moved to this effect, the meeting to be called by the Mayor. This was carried and the meeting will be held some time this week.

The finance committee recommended the appropriation of $1,500.00 for the usual purposes. Adopted. The same committee recommended the further appropriation of $10,000 out of the Fund for the bridge fund. This, the Mayor thought, was the third appropriation from this fund. It was adopted.

Ald. Stewart introduced the by-law to accept the dedication of St. Andrew's and Beacon streets from D. R. Harris. It was read a first time.

Ald. Cameron introduced the Jewelers' Early Closing By-law. It was read a first and second time and taken up in committee, after which it was advanced another stage.

The council then adjourned.

IRISH SECRETARY.

Mr. Wyndham is Allowed £425 for "Fuel" in Addition to Salary.

Mr. Wyndham, in addition to his salary as chief secretary for Ireland, receives an annual allowance of £425 for "fuel." During a debate on the civil service estimates in 1891 this fuel allowance was objected to, but the motion for its abolition was defeated. At one time the chief secretary received £7,000 a year, but in 1831 the amount was fixed at £5,500 in lieu of all fees and emoluments. It has since been reduced to £4,000. It is worthy of note that before the change took place in the relative positions of the Lord-Lieutenant and the Chief Secretary, Sir Robert Peel was against including the Chief Secretary in the cabinet.

A CHARITABLE QUEEN.

Philanthropy is much a passion as hunting, music or painting. She is at the head of all Portuguese charitable establishments, which she directs in person, even to the minutest details. Many and many a time she will quit the palace at some early morning hour unaccompanied, simply dressed in black, and none of the household dare ask whether goes Her Majesty, for all know she is bound on some secret errand of mercy. Once when the civic guard, recognizing her and seeing her enter one of the lowest quarters in Lisbon, followed to watch over her safety she sternly forbade him to divulge what he had seen or to unmask her anonymity.—Tu-Hits.

GOOD VOICES.

The Richard J. Jose Minstrels Gave Capital Performance Last Night.

The Richard J. Jose minstrels, which appeared at the Victoria last evening, were greeted with a rather small house, but nevertheless a most appreciative one. The company give a very enjoyable entertainment. It depends for its strength on the quality and number of its voices and there is not a poor singer in the aggregation.

Every solo on the programme last evening was encored and loudly applauded. Mr. William MacDonald, the great basso, had to respond four times. He has been heard before in this city when he travelled in company with the Bostonians, but perhaps the superb quality of that magnificent instrument of his was never heard to such advantage as in "Asleep in the Deep," "The Song the Anvil Sings," and other equally stirring selections which he gave last evening. His voice will be remembered as one of the best ever heard on the local stage.

Mr. Jose, the famed contra-tenor of the company, craved the indulgence of his audience, but really had no occasion to, for his voice gave the greatest pleasure. His effort was the first in five nights. He had an operation performed on his throat in Seattle last week, and from the effects of this has not yet fully recovered.

Other musical numbers that were well received were "Just Plain Folks," by W. L. Thorne; "The Same Old Crowd," by W. T. Lewis; and "Our Land of Dreams," by Mr. Arthur Taliesin.

While K. Mack and Frank Cushman, comedians, were very humorous in their turn, their line of play being entirely free from coarseness and not so ranting as is generally seen in minstrelsy. Many of the puns had local application and made strong hits. The performance concluded with a wire walking exhibition.

THE MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

The Roblin government has been sustained in power by the electors of Manitoba. The majority will probably be about the same as the government had in the late legislature. Mr. Roblin's strength lay chiefly in his railway policy and in the support he received from the Canadian Northern Railway Company. It was held at the time the deal was made for the purchase of the Northern Pacific that the province was taking great chances in incurring such heavy liabilities. But the growing time favored the government. Prosperity intervened and success justified the experiment. The farmers have had abundant harvests for several years and the policy of the government promised them more effective and cheaper means of transportation. After the fixing of the dates for the election a reduction in the rates for the carriage of wheat from the prairies to Port Arthur was announced. Thus it would appear the government had engineered a very effective combination of circumstances in its favor. Men are not anxious for a change when they are doing well; and there are no people in the world to-day in a more prosperous condition than those of Manitoba.

WAKING UP.

It is rather surprising to see the following words quoted, apparently with approval, in the Colonist: "Yes, sir; I am aware that orders were recently given to a Glasgow firm for the construction of locomotives for Canada, and I am informed that they could not have been obtained without the operation of the preferential tariff between Canada and England." The sentence was spoken by Mr. Chamberlain in the Imperial House of Commons in reply to a question of one of the members. The Conservative party has from the first been opposed to the preference. The leaders of the party have not been agreed upon the ground of their opposition. Some of them have constantly maintained that the measure is a humbug from a British point of view; that it is of no advantage whatever to the British, but rather the reverse. Others, including the leader, have insisted that it is an outrage upon Canadian manufacturers and should be abolished, and will be abolished, as soon as the only loyal party attain power, as a factory in Canada is of more advantage to us than a workshop in Yorkshire or Lancashire, while there were a few who also asserted that Germany and the United States were the chief beneficiaries under the arrangement. The opposition should, in justice to itself, reduce its various elements to harmony. How can it expect the people to repose confidence in leaders who make such contradictory statements. If the preference is of no advantage to British manufacturers, obviously things would remedy practically as they were in the days when the National Policy, designed to shut out British goods, was working in the direction of the disintegration of the Empire, with the entire approval of the Tory leaders. Now the preference is operating in the opposite direction, because it can no longer be denied that it is the text from which the Empire-builders in Great Britain are preaching their stirring discourses. And it is inflicting no injury upon Canada. Our manufacturers are proclaiming that they cannot fill their orders and that they could find employment for ten thousand more mechanics if they could get them. But for the preference the C. P. R. would have gone to the United States for its locomotives, as it did in the days when the National Policy placed such a heavy embargo on British goods. The fact is quite apparent that the preference is setting the current of trade in a new direction. That fact is recognized by Americans, who are now enthusiastically in favor of reciprocity. It is recognized by the British, who are awakening to the possibilities of the Dominion; and it is recognized by the Canadian Tory politicians, who are visibly changing ground and preparing to abandon the old untenable position. The Liberals have achieved a great triumph in converting their opponents in this country, but probably their most notable achievement lies in the conversion of the New York Sun, the inflexible opponent of the autocracy of this country, which after carefully weighing the facts that have forced themselves upon its attention during the last few years, is obliged to admit that "Canada's future presents an exceedingly rosy aspect." Our contemporary's vision of autocracy, like Conservative expectations of restoration to power, have silently faded away.

AN INTERESTING CONFLICT.

Law and anarchy are now face to face in Breathitt county, Kentucky. The representatives of the two forces will soon be locked in what is hoped will be a final struggle for supremacy, and the result should be interesting. The grand jury of the county, under military guard, is now considering all the circumstances of cases which have been pending for a number of years. Twenty-seven lives have thus far been wiped out by assassins, and not one individual has been brought to account for the murders. By way of variety, arson has been mixed up with the work of the wayside murderers. The latter is evidently considered by the interesting mountaineers as the more heinous crime of the two, and an effort is to be made to deal with destroyers of personal property first. If the experiment should prove a success the murderers will be dealt with next.

In passing it may be noted that in Breathitt county the officers of the law are not popular personages. Most of them have fled for their lives to cities or other distant places of refuge after futile attempts to carry out the provisions of that extremely unpopular and inconvenient institution, the law. At last one bold man has come forward and volunteered to do his duty. But, although he is provided with a military bodyguard, he has taken the precaution to make his will and otherwise prepare for the worst. The worst usually comes without warning from a repeater concealed in the bushes which grow luxuriously by the wayside in naturally prolific Kentucky. The genesis of all the trouble is lost in obscurity. The press is held in terror after the same manner as judges, sheriffs and all other institutions favorable to law and order. In a general way it has been learned that fruids of long standing involving the sacrifice of many lives have reached the culminating point and that a grand final crisis is now on. Dispatches tell us that after the killing of Town Marshal James Cockrill, there was no one to make arrests for over a year, until the soldiers arrived in May last. Then City Judge Cardwell, who had been a prisoner in his own house for eighteen months, resumed holding court. The two trustees have just appointed Joseph Newland, who is considered one of the bravest in the mountain districts, as town marshal. During the past seven years seven men have held this position. Four of them were killed while on duty and two of the other three were forced to resign. It is expected that the special grand jury will complete its work this week, so that the attorneys, witnesses and others can go to Cincinnati, where the next trial of Jett and White for murdering Marenum begins on Monday, July 27th. Justice is trying to raise her head in Breathitt county. She will be lucky if she does not retire into the fastnesses again with a bullet in her upper story.

The question of closer relations with the colonies is the great political question in Great Britain at the present time. There can be no peace for the politicians until it is disposed of. Canada is the most vitally interested in the matter of any of the colonies, because she applied the torch to the hearth. The campaign in Great Britain must therefore be of surpassing interest to Canadians. The Montreal Daily Herald has sent to England one of its editorial staff to interview English public men in regard to Mr. Chamberlain's preferential trade proposals, and to estimate, as well as may be, the weight of the forces working for and against the proposition. As Mr. Walsh will naturally represent the Canadian point of view, his interviews should elicit responses peculiarly interesting to Canadians. His letters will begin in the Herald in the course of a few days.

The preliminary warming up heats in the great America Cup contest have been run. Reliance, Constitution and Columbia will sail their final trials next week, immediately after which the selection of a defender to go up against Shamrock III. will be made. There is little doubt that Reliance will be entrusted with the task. She has not thus far proved herself capable of more than giving the old boats the time allowance to which they are entitled, notwithstanding that she had at her helm the most expert skipper of such craft in American waters. The old salts still profess their confidence that with Barr at the wheel of Columbia she would prove the fastest boat of the three. If Shamrock III. proves as fast in the final trials as she appears to be on paper estimates, there should be some interesting races after August 20th.

A Chicago university professor has promulgated a new theory. He says Americans are developing into Indians. The professor refers to physical appearances. He might extend his speculations to mental developments as regards certain districts. It is perhaps well for Canadians that their blood is being tempered by strong infusions from abroad. They have yet evinced no disposition to fall back to the torturing and burning stage.

Now the world is wondering why Russia does not retire from Manchuria. It really appears as if the diplomats expected her to redeem her pledge. Or is the astonishment at the obduracy of the bear merely feigned? The Times ventured the opinion at the time the pledge was given that Russia would stay in Manchuria until she was kicked out. And she will.

THE CHILD IN THE GARDEN.

Henry Van Dyke.

When to the garden of untroubled thought I came of late, and saw the open door, And wished again to enter, and explore The sweet, wild ways with stainless bloom inwrought, And hovers of innocence with beauty fraught, It seemed some purer voice must speak before I dared to tread that garden loved of yore.

Then just within the gate I saw a child, A stranger-child, yet to my heart most dear. He held his hands to me, and softly smiled, With eyes that knew no shade of sin or fear.

"Come in," he said, "and play awhile with me; I am the little child you used to be."

He once wrote a poem and succeeded in getting the same published throughout the world. William is a smart man.

A stanza is going the rounds among the public men at Washington, the authorship of which, from the fact that it was first heard among Senators and cabinet officers, is credited to various statesmen. Secretary Shaw recited it at a cabinet meeting, and was said to be its author, but he has disclaimed the honor. It is:

"Go ask papa," the maiden said,
The young man knew papa was dead;
He knew the life papa had led;
He understood when the maiden said,
"Go ask papa."

Marvelous acrobatic feats are being performed at the Edison theatre this week. Flood and Hayes are certainly wonders. Flood's jumps are with the quickness of a cat and lightness of a feather. Imagine a man weighing 170 pounds jumping on a basket of eggs and not breaking one. It also seems almost incredible that one could jump on lighted candles, extinguish the light and rebound, not injuring the candle in the least. These marvelous feats will be performed all this week. The large audiences seemed all awe-stricken last night when these acts were accomplished with such ease and alertness. Miss Hayes sings a beautiful song and receives no end of applause. But when the original and only James Dalton appears the house seems in a tumult, and when he tells his experiences and goes off in that laugh of his it is all off. Laughter comes and a continual roar of hearty applause is heard. The evening's entertainment closes with a beautiful illustrated song and a long list of animated pictures.

COLORADO CARGO IS BEING SAVED

BUT BRISTOL WRECK WAS NOT LOCATED

Capt. Soderman, of North Pacific, Tells How Vessel Came to Be Lost

—Marine Notes.

The cargo of concentrates, which the old dismantled barque Colorado had aboard at the time she drove ashore in Wrangell Narrows last winter, when bound from the Treadwell mine to Tacoma, will be saved.

John Black, of this city, who formed one of the salvage party which went north some weeks ago on the steamer Finch, of Seattle, has returned from the north with news of the success of the operations. He states that several shipments of the ore have already been forwarded to Tacoma, and that the balance in the hold of the vessel will be obtained. As for the hull itself, nothing will be done with it, as it is not considered worth the trouble of saving.

Mr. Black reports that the Finch made a search for the lost collier Bristol, out of the harbor of which it was hoped to regain some of the treasure she is known to have had aboard at the time she went down in a winter gale a few years ago, but the quest was unavailing, no sign of the submerged vessel having been found in the locality to the north of the Skeena, where the ship was said to be. The hull was said to have rested on a sandy bottom, sloping into deep water, and she has either been carried away into a new position or the information supplied the salvagers has been inaccurate. The party made no attempt to visit the scene of the disaster wreck to the south of Douglas Island.

EXPLANATION OF ACCIDENT.

Captain Soderman's explanation of the loss of the steamer North Pacific is as follows: "It was a very foggy night, and we ran into some floating obstruction—a log or a pile, perhaps. The blow

THE LAST OF THE NORTH PACIFIC.

A snapshot of the wreck just before it sank. The photo was taken by A. J. C. Galletty, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Victoria, from the deck of the Clallam. A small tug is alongside.

was not great, though of sufficient force to tear a great hole in the hull of the vessel's port bow. She tilted rapidly. Indeed, within twenty minutes from the time she struck she was practically full of water.

"The rush of water soon put out the fires, leaving us helpless. I blew distress signals and finally the tug C. B. Smith came to our rescue. We gave the tug a line, but the steamer began sinking so rapidly that she had to be cut loose.

"When I saw the vessel was sinking I ordered the lifeboats lowered, and these the passengers and crew, forty all told, got into in good order. Some were later taken aboard the tug, while the rest made Marrowstone point, from which they were picked up by the Mainlander.

"I do not know the depth of the water where we struck, but it was considerable, for we could not find bottom with the lead. We were probably half a mile off shore when we struck the log or whatever it was. I am certain that it was not a reef or a rock of any kind.

"We were running perhaps twelve miles an hour. I remained by the ship until she sank forward. She seemed to remain with her head down, and her after-work thrown out possibly twenty feet above the surface. After leaving her I crawled up on the stern once, leaving her again in about the same position."

LEAVE FOR COAST.

There was no cabin space to spare when the Queen City sailed for Cape Scott and way-points last evening. Among the passengers was a party of botanists from the University of Minnesota, under the leadership of Professor McMillan, who are going to Port Trenchard to study plant life in that locality. A meeting of the executive committee of the B. C. Agricultural Association has been called for to-night at 8 o'clock, at the secretary's office. A meeting of the live stock and poultry committee will be held on Friday, 24th July, at 2 p. m., at the same place.

Ladies who have had their hats caught in overhanging limbs and thereby injured are complaining of the trees along certain streets which are allowed to spread out over the sidewalks in such a manner as to be obstructions in the way of traffic. There are several streets of this kind in the city where a few hours' work would make a great improvement.

The dredge King Edward was expected to start operations this afternoon, but this is impossible owing to the delay in the arrival of coal. There was a scow-load at New Westminster when the dredge left, and this it is thought will arrive to-night. In that event the pump will start to-morrow. A new shell has been installed on it, and it will work far more satisfactorily.

B. Williams & Co., the Yates street merchants whose premises were flooded by water last week, have estimated the damage done by water to be over $5,000. As yet no clue has been obtained of the party or parties guilty for the outrage perpetrated. The company since placing their stock on the market at half prices have been doing a rushing business and yesterday accommodated more customers than any previous day since the sale began.

The Orpheum.—The many people who saw the splendid entertainment at this popular place of amusement were well pleased, and why not? Ed. O'Neill, the champion nut manipulator of the world, heads the bill, and is a wonder. Robert Mantel does a very clever character act that to be appreciated must be seen and heard. There will be a new singer, as Mr. Tracy is taking a well-earned rest. All in all the Orpheum is making good its favorite motto: "The best is none too good for our patrons."

The grocers' second annual picnic at Langford Plains on Thursday next promises to be a most enjoyable outing, nothing being left undone that would in any way tend to the comfort of those attending. An excellent programme of sports and races has been prepared, the prize list being an especially good one. The City band will be in attendance and will add to the pleasure of the outing. Trains will leave the E. & N. depot at 10 a. m., 1:30 and 3:30 p. m., returning leaving Langford at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:40 p. m. The fare has been fixed at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, which includes admission to the picnic grounds.

J. B. A. A. RACES.

As the day of the N. P. A. A. O. regatta approaches, members of the J. B. A. A. are devoting all spare time to training. Keen rivalry exists between the different local crews, and exciting and close races often take place. The other day a lap-stroke race was held between a number of these crews. The first heat was between crews captained by Austin and Knox, the former winning. In the next heat the race was between W. T. Andrews and Jenkins. The latter was victorious. Finlison and P. Andrews contested the third heat, the latter winning out. Jenkins and Austin pulled off in a fourth heat, the latter crossing the finishing line a short distance in the lead. P. Andrews and Austin's crews then lined up for the final. The former was successful, but only after a hard fight.

BASEBALL.

MATCH TO-NIGHT.

A junior baseball match is announced to take place this evening between the Victoria West and Quadra street clubs. The game will commence at 6.30 promptly and will be played on King's grounds, Victoria West.

INTERMEDIATE STANDING.

Over half of the scheduled games of the intermediate league have been played, and so far the Fernwoods and Hillside seem to have the advantage. There is little to choose between these teams. Both are strong at the bat and in the field, and although there appears to be no doubt that either one will win the championship, which it will be an open question. So far this season the Hillside have won one game from the Fernwoods, and the latter have captured one from the Hillside. The next game between these aggregations is therefore being looked forward to with considerable interest.

Next Saturday there will be a league game between the Hillside and Capital teams. The latter have been practicing hard and intend making an effort to defeat the last year's champions. As far as is known at present, the game will be played on the Oak Bay diamond, and will commence at 3 o'clock.

The standing of the intermediate league follows:

	Won.	Lost.	To Play.
Hillside	3	1	2
Fernwood	2	1	3
Reginault	1	3	2
Capital	1	2	3

VICTORIA V. VANCOUVER.

The Victoria baseball team will meet the Vancouver nine on Friday and Saturday next at the Terminal City.

MATCH AT HILL.

At Beacon Hill this evening a match will be played between nine selected from the employees of the E. N. Railway Company and the Hinton Electric Company. The game will commence as soon after six as possible, and all players are requested to be prompt.

ATHLETICS.

THE APPROACHING BIG MEET.

The committee of the J. B. A. A. having in hand preparations for the forthcoming meet of the N. P. A. A. are making excellent progress. They are determined to omit no effort which can contribute to a memorable affair to establish a standard which will give the newly organized association a prestige and strength in athletic circles such as is enjoyed by contemporaneous associations in the East. Besides this there is another feature well worthy of consideration, and that is the advertisement which the city should derive from the holding of a successful meet here.

This inaugural gathering of athletes of the N. P. A. A. will be held at the Driving park on Saturday, August 15th. The clubs forming the association are: The J. B. A. A. of this city; the Brockton Point Athletic Club, of Vancouver; the Seattle Athletic Club, of Seattle; the Spokane Athletic Club, and the Multnomah A. C. of Portland. All these associations of conceded strength will contribute their best athletic material, and it is indeed gratifying that there should be an assurance of so large an attendance of athletes at the opening meeting.

The approaching meet will be the first to be held in Victoria for many years. In former times it was quite the thing for races of the character contemplated and form part of holiday festivities. The grounds surrounding the old exhibition building at Beacon Hill, and later the Caledonia grounds, as well as the Driving park, became the scenes of many an exciting contest. An excellent programme has been arranged, and will be seen by the following list of events, open to all amateurs:

One Hundred Yards Flat—1st prize, value $25; 2nd prize, value $10; 3rd prize, value $5.
Two Hundred and Twenty Yards Flat—1st prize, value $25; 2nd prize, value $10; 3rd prize, value $5.
Four Hundred and Forty Yards Flat—1st prize, value $25; 2nd prize, value $10; 3rd prize, value $5.

Two Hundred and Twenty Yards Hurdle (low)—1st prize, value $25; 2nd prize, value $10; 3rd prize, value $5.
Half-Mile Flat—1st prize, value $25; 2nd prize, value $10; 3rd prize, value $5.
One Mile Flat—1st prize, value $25; 2nd prize, value $10; 3rd prize, value $5.

Back Kick.
Half-Mile Flat (open to army and navy).
Chinamen's Race.
Entry fee for each event, 50c.
Prospective competitors should bear in mind the following pointers: The constitution of the N. P. A. A. calls for the registration of all amateurs competing at their games. The following sections refer to registration:
Section 2. Each athlete applying for registration and receiving same shall be assigned a number, which number shall be plainly written on his registration certificate. Managers of all open athletic meetings must leave a space in their entry blanks for recording the name and number of each registered athlete who enters.
Section 13. All applications to active members for registration must be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five cents (25c.) and endorsed by the secretary or other proper official of the club of which said applicant is a member, and approved by a member of the registration committee within whose jurisdiction said club is located. Should the applicant for registration not be a member of an athletic club, he must procure the endorsement of three reputable citizens of the locality in which he resides, and the approval of the member of the registration committee within whose jurisdiction he resides.
Applications for registration must be made to J. Leeming, Victoria, B. C., accompanied by fee of 25c.
The following is the definition of an amateur adopted by the N. P. A. A.:

Article III.

Section 1. No person shall be eligible to compete in any athletic meeting, game or entertainment given or sanctioned by this association, who has—
(1.) Received or competed for compensation or reward in any form for the display, exercise or example of his skill in, or knowledge of any athletic exercise, or for rendering personal service of any kind to any athletic association, or for becoming or continuing a member of any athletic organization; or
(2.) Entered any competition under a name other than his own, or from a club of which he was not at that time a member in good standing; or
(3.) Knowingly entered any competition open to professional or professionals, or has knowingly competed with any professional for any prize or token; or (4.) Issued or allowed to be issued in his behalf any challenge to compete against any professional, or for money; or (5.) Pawned, bartered or sold any prize won in athletic competition; or (6.) Is not a registered amateur athlete.

LACROSSE.

THE BIG GAME ON THE MAINLAND.

The victory of the Vancouver lacrosse team over the celebrated New Westminster bunch of stick handlers should have a strong stimulative effect on the game on the Mainland. The succession of victories which had crowned the efforts of the Royal City players for many years past, the series of championships they captured, were palpably disheartening. In fact, it became monotonous, this overwhelming superiority of the team from the banks of the Fraser, and as far as the Island was concerned it was a contributory factor to a decadence of interest. Saturday's game, while not definitely establishing for the Vancouver aggregation the championship, appears to have broken the spell which a world of assiduous training, a devotion to the sport and an all absorbing pride in their achievements had worked for the New Westminster team. It will undoubtedly spur the victors to keep tuned up to the same pitch, for relaxation would prove fatal. It will have a corresponding effect on the champions, and consequently the next struggle between them should be one of the greatest battles in the history of provincial lacrosse.

But while the keener rivalry the greater the excitement and interest is axiomatic, brutality on the field can have no other effect than to remove lacrosse from the class of games that respectable people will not patronize. Lacrosse players must not think they are gladiators, and that it is a case of "thumbs up or down." The game loses its prestige when true sportsmanship is lacking in its exposition. For instance, on Saturday last one of the New Westminster players attempted to hit the referee because he was ordered to the fence. Quite properly, the referee ruled him off for the remainder of the match. Had the referee been less of a gentleman he would have involved himself in an altercation with the recalcitrant stick handler, but he didn't, and the game was saved from degenerating into a dirty squabble. He simply warned off the blow and relegated the pugnacious one to the fence.

Victoria will play New Westminster here on Saturday next, and the visitors will have no walk over. Veterans will take the field again for the locals, and this city will be represented by the strongest aggregation which has lined up here for a long time.

SOCIALISM.

To the Editor:—In the Times of the 15th one signing himself "A Workman" states that he "would be pleased to know what this Socialism is anyway." It is easy to say "We hear people rant about this thing and that," but if over the signature "Socialist" the exact language therein made use of by him were made to apply against present economic conditions, it is morally certain that were "A Workman" to read his own production, thus arrayed he would declare the writer to be doubly a "ranter." Too seldom do we try to view ourselves as others see us. He states "that each day we spread a new network of 'isms' forgetting in our blind, human presumption that the Fisher of Men laid down the Golden Rule 2,000 years ago, which is preached to-day, but unobserved." He further states, "that 'when we look around and find men burning their fellow human beings; when we see corruption and vice rearing its festering head in civilized communities, it is time to ask what good these 'isms' accomplish?" In reply, if we are justified in speaking in such terms with respect to the advocates of a proposed reform, if, during the few years of its advocacy only, the excesses he mentions have not been corrected, what must be said of the Golden Rule and its author? What was said of him? He was called a ranting, and his persecutors asked: What is this new ism of which he speaks? The trouble to-day is as yesterday. There are too many of our race who use their pen and powers to condemn men and women who are striving to improve the condition of the human family. We see the professional advocates of the Golden Rule wide awake to condemn the burning of a criminal, while the little children outraged and worse than murdered scarcely causes a ripple on their sense of justice. We see one eye open to the festering corruption he refers to, but all seemingly blind to the widow and her children grinding at the mill. Now, it appears to me that the Socialists have noted most carefully the evils the people are inflicting on themselves, and so far as the writer can see, are the only section of society who are attempting practical measures of relief and to make it possible for the public, individually and collectively, to do unto others as they should. It is noticeable that those making material sacrifices in defence of principles they are advocating are poor people. Many of them not having matriculated, they may not at all times adopt method and language in their work of construction that those more fortunate seem to commend in their work of destruction. "A Workman" himself forgets that the main contention of the Socialist is to abolish in an orderly manner a root of evils pointed out 2,000 years ago, and one which the great parties aiming to "spend their lives in the service of God" find contentment in seeing grow. It is to be found in the sure Word, and reads thus: "Go to, now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. Your riches are corrupted and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together against the last days. Behold the hire of the laborers which is kept back by you, which is the cry of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth." In reply to the recent writer from Lady-smith, who attacked the striking miners

Rich, Delicious, Pure, CLEANLY MANUFACTURED "SALADA"

as having "been fed by the Dunsmuir for 20 years," it may be recalled that the three million dollars now being fought over was the recognized heritage of a once bare-footed son of a once poor miner, and in the light of the above "sure word" we ask if these miners did not at the peril of their lives dig out their own living, and by the sweat of their brow did provide a sumptuous living for the family named? Were not the castles erected and millions piled up, largely, at least, the product of the miner's labor withheld from him? For long years did not those miners protest against hire being kept back from them through false balances? The rapping tune surely comes round. The writer of the letter in question is signed "A Workman," yet the voice is the voice of Jacob while the hand is that of Esau. Show your sincerity by signing your name.

Lactated Food

IS THE SAFEST AND BEST DIET FOR INFANTS AND YOUNG CHILDREN.

Nearly 82 per cent. of the children that die under two years of age, die from diseases which have their origin in faulty nutrition. When this enormous proportion, with the facts which show conclusively the causes that have operated to bring about this heavy mortality, is duly considered, it is at once evident that by proper nutrition many of them might be saved. In the study of what constitutes proper nutrition, there is no correct theory except it be founded upon the study of the composition of human milk. This has been done in the preparation of LACTATED FOOD, and the success that has attended its use in every part of the world proves it to be the most perfect of all prepared food for infants and weak children. Lactated Food truly saves babies' lives. Give it a trial, dear mother. All Druggists in Canada sell Lactated Food.

"Does it cost much to live in the city?" asked the rural youth.
"About the same as it costs to live in the country," replied the village sage, "but it costs like fury to keep up appearances."
—Chicago News.

"If I go into this deal," said the man with a little capital, "what will you do?"
"You," replied the promoter, absent-mindedly. —Chicago Post.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

GRAND FORKS.

E. Spraggett has commenced to extend the North Fork wagon road through to Franklin camp. Work has been started at the second rock slide about 25 miles above Grand Forks. An appropriation of $5,000 is stated to be available for this work.

ROSSLAND.

Car shortage affected the output of the mines slightly last week, but the aggregate was over a thousand tons daily, as follows: Le Roi, 3,210; Centre Star, 1,500; War Eagle, 1,020; Kootenay, 275; Le Roi No. 2, 780; Velvet, 125; Giant, 40; Jumbo, 125. Total for the week, 7,165; for the year to date, 200,063.

GREENWOOD.

Dr. A. D. McRae having resigned the pastorate of the Presbyterian church, Greenwood, to take up college work at Calgary, Rev. V. M. Purdy, of Phoenix, who at the meeting of the Presbytery of Kootenay, held last week at Grand Forks, was appointed interior moderator, attended at the Greenwood church last Sunday morning to declare the pulpit vacant.

A double wedding took place at Chesaw, Wash., on 5th inst., when P. W. Lover, of Greenwood, was married to Miss Maude Butler, and Stanley Smalley, of Chesaw, to Miss Pearl Butler.

BOUNDARY CREEK.

Ten cars of ore have been hauled from the dump at the Morrison mine to the railway switch above Deadwood. This ore is being used as required at the Greenwood smelter, its sulphur contents making it particularly useful at times. Teams are continuing to haul from the Morrison, the expectation being that at least 1,000 tons will be taken from the dump. One car of Ab there ore has also been sent down from Deadwood to the smelter. About Deadwood it is rumored that work is shortly to be resumed at the Greyhound, but this report has not yet been officially confirmed.

ASHCROFT.

Mr. H. C. Killeen, superintendent of public works, is laying out the Highland Valley road and it is expected when he is through that instructions will be given to commence work. The completion of the road will give easy access to Ashcroft for a number of Nicola farmers. Ashcroft will then be much nearer than either Savona or Spence's Bridge. The original idea was to build the road for the benefit of the Highland Valley mines alone, but it is understood it will be continued and join the Monnet Lake road, thus affording direct communication between Nicola and Ashcroft.

Mr. Stuart Henderson reached home on Wednesday night from a visit to Toronto and Ottawa. He states that the Grand Trunk Pacific will begin construction simultaneously at Port Simpson, Winnipeg and Moncton, and that from Winnipeg construction will be carried on both ways.

L. M. Harley, who represents the Butte, Montana, interests in the Magde mine claim, has spent the last ten days at the mine and here. Mr. Harley visited the property last fall and this trip is to see how the work has progressed and to plan for future operations. He is much pleased with the advance made by Mr. Hocking, and with the appearance of the ore. Upon Mr. Harley's return to Butte his report will be considered and decisions arrived at as to the future development of the property.

On Tuesday evening there was a very pretty wedding at the residence of Mr. L. Lehman, J. P., when his daughter Alice was married to Mr. C. Patterson. The Rev. James Turner, president of the Methodist conference, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends of the bride. Miss Pauline Tingler was bridesmaid, and Mr.

Stuart Pritchard supported the groom. The bride, who has always lived at Ashcroft, has a large circle of friends, among whom she is highly esteemed. Mr. Patterson is the manager of the Ashcroft Water and Electric Light Company.

CAMBORNE.

A contract has been awarded to I. Thompson and H. Bodine to drive 100 feet of tunnel on the Beatrice. These men recently finished their contract of driving 250 feet of tunnel, and it is expected at the expiration of their present work that the free gold ledge, which was discovered last fall and from which values of $28 in gold have been obtained, will be tapped. Frank Fullmer, manager of the Beatrice Mines, Ltd., has just returned from the East, where he succeeded in interesting capital in the property, and it is anticipated that ere long operations on this rich mine will be conducted on a very large scale.

Work at the Oyster-Criterion stamp mill is proceeding briskly. The foundations for the mill are nearly completed, and the frame work of the mill is also about finished. The site presents a busy scene with carpenters, stonemasons, blacksmiths and miners, all working at their different tasks, while further up the hill men can be observed preparing the tramline towers for the stripping of cables.

The Eva stampmill is being pushed steadily forward. The roof has been sheathed and shingling has started. The battery blocks will be put in position at once, and it is the intention as soon as the roof is finished, to start the work of installing the machinery. The towers of the tramline are being erected.

PHOENIX.

On Friday D. W. Ross, superintendent of the C. P. R. lines in Kootenay and Boundary, made a visit to Phoenix, accompanied by Mrs. Ross and family. H. L. Johnson, the road master, also came in with Mr. Ross, and with William Yolen Williams a number of improvements in the truckage at the Granby mines were looked over and decided on. The Old Ironsides ore line will have another sidetrack, and the timber spur will be lengthened. Mr. Ross also went over the Brooklyn and Stemwinder spurs, where it is proposed to finish laying the steel a distance of over 4,000 feet, it being the intention to ship the ore from the dumps of those mines—something like 8,000 tons. Mr. Ross stated that the company was now in better condition to handle the increasing ore traffic on the Boundary branch, both of the powerful Shay locomotives now being on the Phoenix ore run, and a third still more powerful, being due some time in September. Two sidetracks have recently been put in at the Oro Denoro, and in a short time the loop at Hartford Junction, graded over a year ago, will be placed in use, to do away with the switchback at that point. Six mines are now shipping regularly over the Phoenix branch, namely, the B. C. mine, Emma, Oro Denoro, Athelstan, Snowshoe and Granby, the aggregate of these mines alone being something like 11,000 or 12,000 tons weekly.

RINGING IN THE EARS.

This is an unfeeling sign of catarrh, and if not checked will ultimately result in deafness. The simplest remedy is Catarrhoxone, which if inhaled a few times daily, prevents the catarrhal condition from spreading. Catarrhoxone quickly stops the ringing in the ears, head noises, gives permanent relief to catarrhal deafness. For Catarrh in any part of the system, Bronchitis, Asthma, Lung or Throat Troubles, Catarrhoxone is a specific, and is guaranteed to permanently cure or your money back. Large size, $1.00; trial size, 25c. Drugists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure Constipation.

"The great trouble with you," said Mrs. Jaggaby to her husband the next morning, "is your inability to say 'no.' Learn to say it at the proper time and you will have fewer headaches."

"I can see where you are right, my dear," replied he of the throbbing temples. "By the way," continued Mrs. J., "I want to do a little shopping to-day. Can you let me have $10?"

"No," answered the wily Jaggaby, without a moment's hesitation.—Chicago News.

Mother—Willie, you must stop asking your papa questions. Don't you see they annoy him?
Willie—No, ma'am; it ain't my questions that annoy him.
Mother—Willie!
Willie—No, ma'am, it's the answers he can't give that make him mad.—Philadelphia Press.

Ferrozone.

"For the benefit of others," writes Mr. Douglas, "I desire to state the results I derived from the use of Ferrozone. Two years ago I was stricken with Pneumonia. So severe was the attack and so reduced was my strength that my life was despaired of. I had the very best medical attention, but made no progress towards recovery. When reduced to practically a skeleton, a kind friend told me of the remarkable powers of Ferrozone. An improvement began almost at once. I gained steadily in weight and strength until Ferrozone made me a new man. I will gladly answer enquiries from other sufferers if they care to have further particulars about my recovery. Ferrozone deserves its great measure of success."

This is but one of the many cases that are being cured every day by Ferrozone. No treatment was ever known to supply a weak system so quickly with strength and energy. No tonic does its work so thoroughly. It is a specific for tiredness, languor, loss of appetite, weakness after fevers, and all debilitating diseases. Ferrozone makes you strong and keeps you strong—in a word, it assures health and costs but 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50, at any drug store. By mail from The Ferrozone Company, Kingston, Ont. ## THE "PUBLIC DINNER."

Recently there have been an extraordinary number of public dinners, at which the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family have presided. It is a characteristic form of British hospitality, and shows no sign of diminished popularity. Douglas Jerrold once said that we were so fond of giving dinners that if the whole world were con-vulsed by an earthquake, the Englishmen would somehow contrive to meet amid the ruins and celebrate the event by a dinner! Charles Dickens left on record an amusing picture of the charity dinner of his time, and certainly he knew that function very intimately from his frequent presence at dinners where his eloquence was successful in extracting large sums from the guests' pockets on behalf of some philanthropy.It was at one such dinner that the following pretty instance of the kindness of Dickens was noted. The late Dean Farrar thus records the incident: "At one small public dinner at which I met Charles Dickens I was struck with his chivalry to an absent friend. Mr. Sims Reeves had been announced to sing at the dinner, and, as happened not infrequently, Mr. Sims Reeves had something the matter with his throat, and was unable to be present. Dickens announced this, and the statement was received with a general laugh of incredulity. This made Dickens, who was in the chair, very angry, and he manfully upheld his friend.
"My friend Mr. Sims Reeves," he said,
"regrets his inability to fulfil his engagement, owing, he added with great severity, to an unfortunately amusing and highly facetious cold!"—St. James's Gazette.
